Dear Parents:

As many of you know, my husband and I are expecting our second child. Our three-year-old son Finley is anxiously awaiting the arrival of his little brother! My due date is Thursday, February 10th and, barring unforeseen circumstances, I plan to work until the baby arrives. I can hardly believe I have just four weeks left! The students are truly a joy to work with, thus I will be sad to leave. I will not return until the start of the 2011-2012 school year. Until then, let me introduce you to my maternity leave substitute.

Ms. Amanda Dziura will be taking over my classes. To ensure a smooth transition, she will begin working on Monday, January 31. Ms. Dziura is the perfect teacher to take over both my language arts and reading classes. She began working at Hauser last year as a maternity leave substitute for Communications, and then as a permanent substitute in the building. Ms. Dziura has also taught both middle school and high school language arts and English, and will be receiving her M.Ed. to become a Reading Specialist through National Louis University this March. She truly enjoys working with Hauser students and is excited to share her love of reading and writing with them.

I know Ms. Dziura is looking forward to working with your child. I am confident the remainder of the school year will be successful. Should you need to contact her beginning in February, please do so at dziuraa@district96.org.

Best wishes,

Jennifer Kovar
